BUILDING END-USE

Glass Manufacturing

Cardinal Glass Industries, a leading manufacturer of residential glass for windows and doors constructed a 200,000 sf facility in Archbald near Scranton, PA. This new facility allowed the company to move from their smaller nearby leased facilities while doubling the production lines and creating new jobs.

Manufacturing, distribution, and office areas are all included in the design of this pre-engineered metal building. The building includes jib and multiple top running cranes. Thirty five clear height to support the laminated glass production plus future 72,000 sf of expansion were also included in this design.
